Dear Parents / Carers,

Just a reminder that next week will be Science Week. The children will be taking part in various workshops and activities and you are invited to come and have a look at what we have been doing during our Science Fair on Thursday 22nd March at 3:30 - 4:15 in the top hall.

We are also running a competition for the children to complete at home. Children may choose to complete either of the following activities:

- Research and make their own minibeast.
- Make a poster about someone that has made an amazing discovery.

Please see the back of the original letter to find some exciting experiments that you can try at home. A copy of this can be found on the school website. The competition winners will be announced in assembly on Friday 23rd March. Good luck!

Best wishes,

Emily Bull

Science Coordinator
