Sound of the week

Our sound of the week will be the sound 'm', please could you work with your child to find something in your house that starts with the sound 'm' and send a picture to your class teacher. This will be used both in class and in our live lessons. For this week please could Laybird and Butterfly class send their pictures to Mr Symes. nsymes@bessemergrange.southwark.sch.uk

Our Week

This week we have been reading the book The Snail and the Whale. We have discussed the exciting adventures they went on together and how such different creatures can be such good and helpful friends. We have had lots of discussions on friendships and how many different ways we can help each other.

We have been recapping taught sounds in phonics and looking at numbers in the environment in Maths as well as lots more - please look at the class web pages for a snap shot of our week. We have all had a thoroughly enjoyable first week back at school and look forward to a busy and exciting summer term in Nursery!

HOME LEARNING

Maths

This week in maths, we have been looking at numbers in the environment and all the different places we see numbers.

Maths home challenge:

How many different places do you see numbers on your way to and from school?
What do all these different numbers represent?
Times, prices, amounts, speeds, routes etc.
Explain to your child that numbers can represent a large range of different things.

Butterfly Class

We all wish Mrs Owusu a wonderful maternity leave and look forward to meeting her latest addition to her family in due course.

We would like to welcome Pamela Mucci who will be in Butterfly class as maternity cover for Mrs Owusu.

Many thanks,
